HANDBOOK

Thank you for stepping up as a team captain!

Dear Team Captain,

Thank you for signing up to be a team captain. Walk for PKD teams raise money to fund life-saving PKD research and elevate the voice of our PKD community by bringing people together.

By leading a team, you are making an important contribution to the Walk for PKD. 100% of the donations you receive from friends and family fund research aimed at finding treatments and a cure for PKD.

This handbook was created for you! It is chalk full of ideas, tips, and resources to help you build your team and raise money for PKD and we are here to support you every step of the way.

A cure is our finish line and with your help, we will reach that goal together!

FACT

Participants who personalize their page raise three times more than those who don't!

Maximize your fundraising page

You've registered for your local Walk, created your team, and now it's time to get all that you can out of your fundraising page dashboard.

To manage and edit your personal and team fundraising page, look for a "Personalize your fundraising page email" that contains a link to access your dashboard. This is where you'll start!

1

Upload a photo. We recommend using a photo that represents your fundraising mission and is personal to you.

4

Make a self-donation. By making a donation to your page you show your friends and family that you are committed to your goal.

2

Tell your story. Why do you fundraise and walk for PKD?

5

Use our email templates. Templates are accessible via your dashboard to welcome new fundraisers, ask for support and thank your donors. Copy and paste these templates into your personal email account within Gmail, Yahoo, etc.

3

Create a unique URL. Make it easy to share your page with your friends, family and co-workers

6

Share your fundraising page. Share it on social media and ask for donations.

Build a strong team

Start with who you know

Invite people to join your team: Friends, family, co-workers, and neighbors.

Send a recruitment email: Include a link to your team page. We have a template email or you can create a message that is unique to you.

Ask your teammates to do the same.

Motivate

Share your why: Tell team members and those looking to join why you are raising money: 100% of funds raised for the Walk for PKD support life-saving PKD research. We want to #endPKD!

Promote Walk for PKD incentives: Remind team members of opportunities to earn prizes and recognition. Visit walkforpkd.org/prizes and walkforpkd.org/recognition.

Come up with your own incentives: As captain, think outside the box! Tell your team members that if they raise $500 by a certain date, you'll dye your hair teal for Walk day. Once they reach that goal, set a higher goal with a more enticing incentive!

Spread the word

Share the story of why you walk: Ask others to join you through different social media channels. Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and even LinkedIn are incredible platforms for sharing your message.

Share the link to your team page: Invite friends to register and use the hashtags #WalkforPKD and #endPKD.

Get the word out in your community: Share you are walking for PKD with your co-workers, civic organizations and beyond.

Build team spirit

Fundraise at work: Ask your employer about matching gifts and/or talk to your company about sponsoring the Walk. Ask your colleagues to join your team or start their own team in your honor.

Get creative: Create a team T-shirt or encourage your team members to wear something special on Walk day to show team spirit (e.g., capes, tutus, bandanas).

The key is to ask

The main reason people donate to a cause is because they have been asked. Tell everyone you know that you are participating in the Walk for PKD to raise money for life-saving PKD research to benefit all those suffering from PKD.

Emails and social media

Email and letter-writing campaigns are the most effective and easiest ways to raise money for your Walk efforts. You can reach hundreds of potential donors in a matter of minutes. Don't forget about sending texts and utilizing social media to connect with your friends.

Tips for messaging your people

1

Utilize your participant center. Get template emails, links, and instructions to get started.

2

Develop your mailing list. Include your email contacts, holiday card list, church directories, former classmates, neighbors, co-workers and others that you know.

3

Compose a personal email/letter. Your personal story will have the greatest impact on the recipient. Include your fundraising goal, deadline for donations and the link to your personal or team page. Make sure you have a strong call to action.

4

Start early by sending your message at least 8-10 weeks before the Walk. Encourage your contacts to donate online or by check. On average, donors who contribute online tend to give 50% more than donors who don't.

5

Send thank you notes to all of your supporters. Don't forget all the people who helped you!

MAKE A CONTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Help me end PKD

You can play your part in ending PKD when you make a contribution to my fundraising page <insert link>. 100% of your donation will fund life-saving research to help bring treatments to PKD patients.

This fall I'll be walking in the <walk name> Walk for PKD because <insert your PKD story>.

Anything you can give helps us get closer to more treatments and hopefully a cure for PKD.

Together we can #endPKD!

TEAM RECRUITMENT

SUBJECT: Join me as I Walk to #endPKD

Hi <friend/family>,

This fall, I'll be walking with thousands of people around the country. We'll be in different cities, but we all share the same goal: to find more treatments—and a cure—for polycystic kidney disease (PKD).

When you support the Walk for PKD, 100% of your donation will fund life-saving research to help bring treatments to PKD patients.

There are two ways you can help!

1. First, join my team <insert team page link> and walk with me on <event date>
2. Please make a contribution on our team page <insert link> and help us end PKD for good!

I sincerely appreciate your support and generosity as I get ready for Walk day. A cure is our finish line!

Together we can #endPKD!

Overcoming fundraising fears

$100 is a lot of money. I don't think I can do it.

It is easy to raise $100 if you break it down into small chunks. If you don't know where to start, use ideas that we have shared in this handbook or explore ideas that tap into your teammates hobbies and interests. The more ideas you can provide the quicker you and your team will be inspired and empowered to fundraise.

I'm uncomfortable asking for money.

Although asking a stranger or even a friend for money may feel unnatural, think about how their support can contribute to the fight to end PKD. People also like to know they are helping out, especially when it helps a friend or family member. Every contribution makes a difference for people living with PKD.

What if they can't make a donation?

The beauty of the Walk for PKD is that there are many ways to give. If someone you ask is unable to make a monetary donation, ask them to help in another way. For example, they can bake cookies for a work fundraiser, host a garage sale and donate the proceeds to you team and spread the word about your efforts throughout their social media pages.

What if they say "No"?

Don't take it personally. This just gives you the opportunity to ask others that will be inspired by your story and commitment to raise funds for PKD research.

FAQs

Can I mail donations from my supporters to the PKD Foundation?

Yes! Please include a note indicating which Walk you are participating in and where the donation should go (team name or Walker's name) or include our donation form (walkforpkd.org/fundraising) with your check or money order and mail to:

PKD Foundation
ATTN: Walk for PKD
PO Box 871847
Kansas City, MO 64187

Will donations be added to my fundraising page?

Yes! Please allow one to two weeks once your donation is put in the mail for it to appear on your fundraising page.

What should I do with cash donations?

It is best to take your cash donations to a bank and get a cashier's check or money order before mailing the donation to the Foundation. We'll then work to get your donation added to your fundraising page.

Are there other ways to donate besides cash, check or online with a credit card?

Donations can be made through donor-advised funds and stock. For more information on electronic stock transfer to PKD Foundation, check out pkdcure.org/gifts-of-securities.

How do I or my donors take advantage of matching gift opportunities?

You can find out about your employer's matching gift program prior to donating through our partnership with Double the Donation. Visit pkdcure.org/matching-gift to find out if your company has a matching gift program and to receive guideline information and forms to help you receive your match!

You can also find out about your company's matching gift program at the time of your donation by selecting the "employer match" check box. You will receive information via email after checkout with instructions, specific to your company, on how to request a match for your donation from your employer.
